Description of Business:

Crofton Industries began as a commercial diving company in 1949. For over 65 years, the company has continued to grow and evolve by expanding its capabilities to better accommodate client needs. Today, Crofton offers industry leading solutions above and below the waterline, combining comprehensive expertise in all facets of commercial diving, marine construction, and crane rental & rigging to execute unique projects with safety and integrity. Each service division accommodates client needs independently and when advantageous, multiple divisions collaborate with one another to transfer the benefits of in-house resources to our clients. The Crofton approach to unique projects is based on real world experience. Regardless of the size of the operation, projects are conducted with the highest levels of engineering, innovation, and professionalism.
